JAMES LARUE,
Petitioner,

DEWOLFF, BOBERG & ASSOCIATES, INC.; DEWOLFF,
BOBERG & ASSOCIATES, INC., EMPLOYEES' SAVINGS PLAN, Respondents.

On Appeal from the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit

MOTION TO DISMISS THE WRIT

INTRODUCTION

On November 6, 2006, Petitioner filed a Petition for a writ for certiorari asking the Court to decide whether a participant in a defined contribution plan may recover alleged lost profits in his individual plan account. Petition at 6. Petitioner claims such losses resulted from Respondents' failure to timely process his request to change his investment allocations in certain mutual funds available to plan participants. Petition at 5-6. In addition to raising the question litigated in the district court whether such relief is available under ERISA § 502(a)(3), 29 U.S.C. § 1132(a)(3), the Petition invoked ERISA § 502(a)(2), 29 U.S.C. § 1132(a)(2), which was added to the case on motion for rehearing before the Fourth Circuit panel. The petition (as had the complaint) asserted that “Petitioner is a participant in the DeWolff, Boberg & Associates, Incorporated, Employees’ Savings Plan,” and that “Petitioner in this case is a participant in a 401(k) plan.” Petition at 5, 8. The Solicitor General filed a brief recommending that the Court grant the petition, asserting that “Petitioner James LaRue is a participant in an ERISA-covered 401(k) pension plan.” U.S. brief at 2. This Court then granted certiorari with regard to both questions.

In reviewing and assembling materials in preparation for briefing on the merits, Respondents discovered that on July 22, 2006, while the case was still pending before the Fourth Circuit, Petitioner withdrew all of his funds from his account in the Dewolff, Boberg & Associates, Inc., Employees’ Savings Plan (the “Plan”). Petitioner thereby ceased to be a participant in the Plan. See Declaration of Morgan Buffington, Exh. A. Accordingly, at the time the Petition was filed, Petitioner was not then, and is not now, a participant in the Plan.

The newly discovered fact that Petitioner is no longer a participant in the Plan moots this case. Board of License Comm’rs of Tiverton v. Pastore, 469 U.S. 238 (1985) (per curiam). Petitioner’s new status leaves him with no legally cognizable interest in the outcome of the case. Arizonans for Official English v. Arizona, 520 U.S. 43, 67 (1997) (plaintiff below “lacked a still vital claim for prospective relief” as a result of voluntary decision to leave employment by the State of Arizona). Moreover, in order to decide the legal issues now presented by virtue of the Petitioner’s new status as a former participant in the Plan, this Court would have to rule on issues on which it did not grant certiorari. For these reasons, the Petition should be dismissed.

ARGUMENT

I. PETITIONER'S ACTIONS RENDER HIS CLAIMS MOOT

As a result of Petitioner's withdrawal from the Plan, there is no actual case or controversy and the case is moot. A controversy ceases to exist when the issues presented are no longer "live," or when the parties no longer have a "legally cognizable interest in the outcome." City News & Novelty, Inc. v. City of Waukesha, 531 U.S. 278 (2001). Neither of the two claims asserted in the Petition involve live controversies.

A. Petitioner's § 502(a)(2) claim is moot.

Petitioner's § 502(a)(2) claim is moot because, under the legal theory supporting this claim, there is no type of relief in which Petitioner would have any legally cognizable interest. Section 502(a)(2) provides that a civil action may be brought "by a participant, beneficiary, or fiduciary." Many lower courts have held that former plan participants may not bring suit under § 502(a)(2). See, e.g., Kuntz v. Reese, 785 F.2d 1410 (9th Cir. 1986) (per curiam) cert. denied, 479 U.S. 916 (1986); Crawford v. Lamantia, 34 F.3d 28 (1st Cir. 1994); In re AEP ERISA Litigation, 437 F.Supp. 2d 750 (S.D. Ohio 2006). Other courts have ruled that former participants can pursue a § 502(a)(2) claim for additional benefits under the terms of the plan. See, e.g., Sommers Drug Stores, Co. Employee Profit Sharing Trust v. Corrigan, 883 F.2d 345 (5th Cir. 1989) (plaintiffs who had accepted lump sum payments still had "colorable claims for vested benefits"). Respondents are unaware of any authority holding that a former participant in a defined contribution plan can bring a claim under § 502(a)(2) to recover damages measured by lost profits following an alleged failure to process a request to change investments in an individual plan account. This Court has not addressed this issue.

Recoveries under § 502(a)(2) must “inure to the benefit of the plan as a whole.” Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co. v. Russell, 473 U.S. 134 (1985). In the briefing on the Petition for writ of certiorari, Petitioner and the Solicitor General suggested that Petitioner’s § 502(a)(2) claim satisfies Russell because, in seeking to recover lost profits caused by Respondents’ alleged failure to timely follow his investment instructions, Petitioner was actually seeking relief under § 502(a)(2) in the form of “payment by respondents (i.e., the breaching fiduciaries) to the plan.” Petition at 14 (emphasis in original). But because Petitioner is no longer a Plan participant, he has no personal stake in whether or not the Plan receives a benefit. Accordingly, Petitioner has no legally cognizable interest in this claim, which seeks to benefit only the Plan. Moreover, because Petitioner is no longer a Plan participant, he lacks “a still vital claim for prospective relief” under this theory. Arizonans for Official English, 520 U.S. at 67. Now that Petitioner is no longer a Plan participant, any recovery achieved by the Plan would not benefit the Petitioner, because it could only go to the Plan. Conversely, the only way the recovery sought under this theory would reach Petitioner is through a payment directly to Petitioner. Such a recovery, of course, would not go to the Plan.

B. Petitioner’s § 502(a)(3) claim is also moot.

Petitioner’s § 502(a)(3) claim likewise does not present a live controversy. Petitioner’s decision to take a final distribution of his interest in the Plan means he is no longer a participant entitled to maintain a claim under this provision. See Nechis v. Oxford Health Plans, Inc., 421 F.3d 96, 100-01 (2d Cir. 2005) (in finding that plaintiff was no longer a participant when she filed the complaint and therefore could not maintain her § 502(a)(3) claim, the court stated, “The [Supreme Court] has also held that § 502(a)(3) strictly limits the ‘universe of plaintiffs who may bring civil actions’” (quoting Harris Trust & Sav. Bank v. Salomon Smith Barney, Inc., 530 U.S. 238, 247 (2000)).

In the district court, Petitioner argued explicitly that his § 502(a)(3) claim sought a recovery to his individual account in the Plan, rather than a payment of money damages to him, claiming that he did “not wish for the court to award him any money, but . . . simply wants the plan to properly reflect that which would be his interest in the plan.” Petition App. 21a. Petitioner’s newly discovered status as a former Plan participant moots the § 502(a)(3) claim for the same reasons the § 502(a)(2) claim no longer presents a live controversy. According to Petitioner’s own theory, he has no legally cognizable interest in a recovery by the Plan, even if the recovery could be properly characterized (which it cannot) as appropriate equitable relief within the meaning of Mertens v. Hewitt Associates, 508 U.S. 248 (1993) and Great-West Life & Annuity Ins. Co. v. Knudson, 534 U.S. 204 (2002).

This Court has recognized that when a petitioner voluntarily changes his status (for example, from participant to non-participant) while litigation is pending, that change may render the matter moot by eliminating the petitioner’s legally cognizable interest in his claim. See City News, 531 U.S. 278, (dismissing claims as moot because petitioner, who had unsuccessfully applied for a license to operate an adult-oriented retail shop, voluntarily withdrew his application for the license after petitioning for review); Karcher v. May, 484 U.S. 72 (1987) (dismissing an appeal as moot when state legislators were not re-elected during the litigation); Craig v. Boren, 429 U.S. 190 (1976) (finding moot one plaintiff’s challenge to an under-age drinking statute because that plaintiff came of age during the course of the litigation); Bunting v. Mellen, 541 U.S. 1019 (2004) (finding challenge to a school prayer policy moot, in part, because plaintiffs graduated, differentiating between plaintiff’s graduation and a defendant’s temporary cessation of challenged conduct).

Petitioner's conduct here—his voluntary withdrawal of his entire account balance in the Plan—has stripped him of the necessary status to bring a § 502(a)(3) claim as a participant. As in City News, it is the conduct of Petitioner, “not its adversary, whose conduct saps the controversy of vitality.” 531 U.S. at 284 n.1.

II. THIS CASE NOW RAISES LEGAL ISSUES NOT PRESENTED TO THE COURT WHEN THE PETITION WAS FILED

Dismissal of the Petition is appropriate for the additional reason that Petitioner's changed status presents additional legal issues beyond the scope of the questions presented by the Petition.

As suggested above, the lower courts have reached arguably inconsistent outcomes with respect to the right of a former plan participant to maintain a claim for benefits under the terms of an ERISA plan. Many courts have held that a former plan participant cannot maintain such an action. But other courts, applying Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. v. Bruch, 489 U.S. 101 (1989), have held that former plan participants may continue to maintain claims under both § 502(a)(2) and § 502(a)(3) seeking additional vested benefits under the terms of the plan. See, e.g., Champagnie v. Kaufman, 2007 WL 1613491 (D.Conn. June 1, 2007) (finding former employee could bring both § 502(a)(2) and § 502(a)(3) claims because she had “colorable claim for vested benefits”). Many of these cases take different approaches to “statutory standing,” and do not address the mootness issue now presented in this case. Compare Kuntz v. Reese, 785 F.2d 1410 (9th Cir. 1986) (per curiam) (former employees lacked standing to pursue § 502(a)(2) claims because they had received lump sum payments and therefore they were not seeking vested benefits) cert. denied, 479 U.S. 916 (1986); Crawford v. Lamantia, 34 F.3d 28 (1st Cir. 1994) (terminated employee who filed his initial complaint while he was a participant and then collected all vested benefits due to him under the plan could not pursue § 502(a)(2) claim as a result of the divestment); Joseph v. New Orleans Elec. Pension & Retirement Plan, 754 F.2d 628 (5th Cir. 1985) (retirees who accepted lump sum payments from their Plans did not have standing to bring ERISA claims) cert. denied, 474 U.S. 1006 (1985); Loren v. Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Mich., 2006 WL 2228978 (E.D.Mich. Aug. 3, 2006) (actions of plaintiff who ceased to be a member of the plan after commencing litigation mooted her § 502(a)(2) and § 502(a)(3) claims), with Harzewski v. Guidant Light, -- F.3d --, 2007 WL 1598907 (7th Cir. June 5, 2007); Amalgamated Clothing & Textile Workers Union AFL-CIO v. Murdock, 861 F.2d 1406 (9th Cir. 1988) (both finding that former employees had standing under ERISA to bring claims for benefits). See also Coan v. Kaufman, 457 F.3d 250 (2d Cir. 2006).

It is, at a minimum, clear that the question whether Petitioner can continue to pursue his claims for damages measured by lost profits now that he is no longer a participant in the Plan was not presented in the Petition. Petitioner's change of status would thus seem to require the Court to decide a legal issue raised here for the first time. See City News, at 745 (dismissing as moot, in part, because "Full briefing and argument have revealed that the question City News tendered, and which we took up for review, is not now and never was accurately reflective of City News's grievance"). The new question whether the change in Petitioner's status precludes his theories, or gives rise to mootness, appears logically antecedent to the issues on which the Court granted certiorari. Therefore, this Court may wish to consider whether this new question should now be decided.

CONCLUSION

The writ of certiorari should be dismissed.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES LARUE, Petitioner,

DEWOLFF, BOBERG & ASSOCIATES, INC.; DEWOLFF, BOBERG & ASSOCIATES, INC., EMPLOYEES'
SAVINGS PLAN, Respondents.

DECLARATION OF MORGAN BUFFINGTON

My name is Morgan Buffington. I have prepared this Declaration in support of Respondents' motion to dismiss the petition for certiorari filed in the above-referenced case. The facts and information contained herein are based on my personal knowledge and are true and correct to the best of my knowledge.

1. I am the Vice President of Finance & Administration for DeWolff, Boberg & Associates, Inc. ("DBA"). DBA is the plan sponsor of the Dewolff Boberg Employees' Savings Plan ("the Plan").
2. On Wednesday, July 11, 2007 I learned that, in July, 2006, Petitioner James LaRue elected to withdraw all of his funds from the Plan and ceased to be a participant in the Plan. I conveyed this information to our counsel later that same day.
3. A firm known as The Pension Service Inc. ("TPSI") is the third party administrator of the Plan. I requested the documents described in this declaration from TPSI to verify the accuracy of the facts described herein.

4. Mr. LaRue completed and signed an "Election of Payment Method Form" on July 22, 2006, and selected the option to receive "ALL of my Plan distribution." (Ex. 1). That form was processed by TPSSI within a few days. Once that happened, Mr. LaRue ceased being a participant in the Plan, an event which took place no later than July 27, 2006. (Ex. 1).
 5. In October, 2006, Mr. LaRue received his last quarterly statement from TPSSI. The statement shows a balance of $0.00 and a withdrawal of $119,009.13 during the third quarter of 2006. (Ex. 2). Mr. LaRue did not receive any subsequent quarterly statements from TPSSI.
 6. Mr. LaRue terminated his employment with DBA in 2001. Because he was no longer employed by DBA in July 2006 and received no other income from DBA, he could not make any additional contributions to the Plan following his decision to close out his account.
 7. Mr. LaRue did not complete forms to take a hardship withdrawal or submit any documentation necessary to make a hardship withdrawal. Mr. LaRue did not withdraw his account balance as a loan.

* * * *
- Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. Section 1746, I declare, under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States, that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed this 18th day of July, 2007, at Easley South Carolina.

Fund performance is calculated by Nationwide Financial Services, Inc. This fund performance calculates changes in net assets assuming the reinvestment of capital gains and income dividends, and reflects the underlying fund expenses and the deduction of Nationwide's asset fee of 0.50% for primary(P), 0.30% for primary plus(+). Performance for the funds is based on the current charges being applied to all historical time periods and does not include any other fees or expenses including termination charges, plan or participant fees, or trust fees, if applicable. Any such fees and charges, if applicable and reflected, would lower the performance described above. PAST PERFORMANCE IS NOT A GUARANTEE OF FUTURE RESULTS. Investment returns and principal are not guaranteed and the value at the time of redemption may be worth more or less than its original cost. Nationwide is not making any recommendations regarding these funds. Although data is gathered from reliable sources, Nationwide cannot guarantee its completeness and accuracy. Performance results for the time periods this investment option has been offered in the program are reflected in the figures without "+" to the right of the number. Results that have an "*" to the right of the number are for the underlying fund prior to it being offered within this program. When there is market volatility, current returns may be less than the performance shown. Before investing, understand that mutual funds, collective investment funds and annuities are not insured by the FDIC, NCUSIF, or any other Federal government agency and are not deposits or obligations of, guaranteed by, or insured by, the depository institution where offered or any of its affiliates. Mutual funds, collective investment funds and annuities involve investment risk and may lose value. Investing involves market risk, including possible loss of principal, and there is no guarantee that investment objectives will be achieved. The use of an asset allocation model does not guarantee returns or insulate you from potential losses. For more complete information, including fees, charges and expenses, please refer to additional information, investment profiles and underlying fund prospectuses, if applicable, from your pension representative. Please note your plan may include Collective Investment Funds for which prospectuses are not applicable. Please read the information carefully before investing any money. Certain of the funds are only available as investment options in Variable Life Insurance or variable annuity contracts issued by life insurance companies. They are NOT offered or made available to the general public directly. Trust programs and trust services are offered by Nationwide Trust Company, FSB, Nationwide Investment Services Corporation, member NASD, In MI only; Nationwide Investment Svcs. Corporation.

Nationwide Investment Services Corporation, Member NASD/SIPC, Nationwide Investment Svcs. Corporation, Member NASD/SIPC (in the State of Michigan).

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Your plan balances are reported using "Unit Values" and "Units". This valuation method allows your account to be valued on a daily basis. Your plan's assets are not part of a collective investment trust or common trust fund. The Unit Value reflects changes in the fund's Net Asset Value, any distributions received (Dividends, Capital Gains or Interest) and any asset fees assessed under the plan. The value of your account, or any transaction thereon, is determined by multiplying the number of Units times the Unit Value. If you have any questions regarding Units or Unit Values, please contact your pension representative.

Your retirement account is always at your fingertips, 24 hours a day, seven days a week.
